

WHAT WILL YOUR LEGACY BE?

Have you considered making a bequest to support the causes that you have cared about throughout your lifetime? If you share Audubon's values and feel a personal responsibility for stewardship for our natural world, please consider extending your support beyond your lifetime by including Audubon in your plans. If you wish, you may designate your gift for Audubon programs specific to the Rockies.

If you would like to make a legacy gift, you may do so by:

- Making a gift through your IRA by designating Audubon Rockies as a beneficiary. To ensure that your gift is dedicated to Audubon Rockies, simply specify in your estate plans that your gift is intended for Audubon Rockies, a program of The National Audubon Society.
- Setting up an annuity agreement to provide lifetime income for yourself or members of your family.
- Naming Audubon Rockies or one of its programs in your will or as a beneficiary of your insurance policy.

How to say it:

I bequeath (dollar amount or % of estate) to the National Audubon Society, Inc., a not-for-profit organization, with its principal offices located at 225 Varick Street, 7th Floor, New York, NY 10014. This gift should support Audubon programs in Colorado or Wyoming (or, name a specific Audubon Rockies program). Tax ID # 13-1624102.

Contact us for additional information or for assistance in determining which type of gift may be right for you.

Shari Kolding, Gift Planning - (512) 236-9076 or skolding@audubon.org

John Kloster-Prew, Audubon Rockies - (970) 416-6931 or jklosterprew@audubon.org

<http://www.audubon.planyourlegacy.org/>